

Quotes from Clients

Chartered Developments have brought a breath of fresh air to our dental marketing campaign.

Like most busy professionals, while marketing is very important, it is one of a number of matters that we need to juggle and if it is not given the attention it requires, then momentum and credibility with potential clients is lost.

This is where Chartered Developments come into their own, with my firm mailing out flyers on topical issues, these are then followed up by the Chartered Developments team. They will continue to call (without hassling) until they speak to the relevant individual and arrange either telephone calls or meetings to discuss issues. This is something that we do not have time to deal with in-house because of client pressures etc.

The end result is a telephone call or meeting, where the individuals are very receptive to ideas and comments that are made by us.

My advice would be to use Chartered Developments whenever possible as the results they have produced are exceptionally good.

We have enjoyed a constructive working relationship with Chartered Developments over a number of years. They are genuinely interested in the medical specialism and work hard to improve their understanding of the area helping to provide us with good leads.
